PIL strengthens connectivity with new intermodal service

Launching a new sustainable end-to-end transportation option for our customers, PIL is pleased to successfully complete our inaugural block train delivery of goods from Lat Krabang to Laem Chabang in Thailand. This is part of the PIL Intermodal Services introduced recently.

Travelling inland for about three hours, 38 PIL 20-footer and 40-footer containers, spanning 460 metres, were transported over 118km to reach Laem Chabang Port. The journey via train instead of truck helped to reduce carbon emissions by an estimated 227 tonnes, equivalent to planting 227 trees.

All the containers arrived at the port in time for loading and onward transportation to its final destinations at Brisbane, Melbourne and Sydney in Australia.

PIL plans to leverage on our wide network to implement this solution in Asia, Africa, Middle East, Latin America and Oceania, further supporting our customers on their journey to reduce carbon emissions and for PIL to be a sustainable shipping line.
